Management Report of Fund Performance

This management report of fund performance is for the period from January 14, 2016 (date of incorporation) to December 31, 2016. It does not contain the financial statements of the investment fund. You can get a copy, at your request and at no cost, of the financial statements, proxy voting policy and procedures, proxy voting disclosure record or quarterly portfolio disclosure, by calling 416.601.0808, or by writing to us at: AIP Asset Management Inc., 77 King Street West, Suite 4140, Toronto, Ontario M5C 1G3 or by visiting our website at www.aipassetmanagement.com or SEDAR at www.sedar.com

Investment Objective and Strategies

The investment objective of AIP Macro Class Fund (the “Fund”) is to generate superior risk-adjusted investment returns, relative to the Fund’s benchmark, a 50/50 blend of the MSCI World Index and FTSE Global Government Bond Index, by taking a balanced approach to investing in equity and fixed income securities of global companies.

The Fund may also invest in special situation securities. As global assets become increasingly correlated, there is value in finding securities that do not exhibit a high correlation with other assets. Accordingly, the Fund has invested in high yielding debt instruments of private companies.

Risk

The risks associated with investing in this Fund are set out in the prospectus. There were no material changes in the Fund during the period that affected the overall level of risk of the Fund.

Results of Operations

The results of operations is for the period from January 14, 2016, the date of incorporation, to December 31, 2016. However, the Fund did not start operations until March 18, 2016 when it merged with Redwood Global Macro Class (“Redwood”). The Fund acquired all the net assets of Redwood at fair market value in exchange for shares of the same series of the Fund of equal value. The shareholders of Redwood became shareholders of the Fund.

For the period ending December 31, 2016, the Net Asset Value (“NAV”) for the three main class of shares, Class A, F and I were $10.81, $11.57 and $10.42 respectively. The increase in net assets per share from operations for Class A, F and I were $ 0.42, $ 0.37 and $ 0.24 respectively. The different increases in net assets per share is attributable to different expense structures and the timing of the initial issuance of shares of the class.

The Fund’s merger with Redwood resulted in the Fund emerging as the continuing Fund with opening net assets of $8,255,750. Net subscriptions of shares increased assets by another $4,296,476 during the reporting period.

The most significant factor affecting the Fund's performance is the Fund holding approximately 51.6% of its net assets in cash which earns a nominal return on investment. By holding a large cash position, the Fund will underperform its benchmark index when equity and fixed income markets are strong and outperform when markets are weak. The Fund's second largest position is in corporate bonds at approximately 32% of net assets, with average maturities of less than two years.

Recent Developments and outlook

The Fund experienced a surge of subscriptions following its launch date. Cash came in faster than the Fund's ability to deploy it in accordance with its longer strategy and the near term investment outlook. The Fund's positive investment returns were achieved despite the Fund holding over 50% of its assets in cash.

2016 was a wild ride for equity and bond investors as most major stock market indices went to new highs as many markets returned double digit gains. But it wasn't a smooth market ride. Stocks weathered many bumps along the way and defied gloomy forecasts that followed a global recession scare, Brexit, energy price volatility, uncertainty regarding interest rates, China and the U.S. presidential election of Donald Trump.

Since the election, the stock market moved higher and higher almost every day, but bonds have lost $1.1 trillion dollars globally. The majority of the stock market gains occurred in the second half of the year as corporate earnings rebounded, higher growth expectations and energy prices stabilizing. The rally accelerated after the election, as investors bet that Trump would be able to successfully implement his agenda items such a tax cuts, less regulation and increased infrastructure spending.

The only certainty in 2017 is uncertainty. Investors believe that the Trump administration will be able to pass his pro-growth policy agenda thru congress such as cutting corporate taxes, easing regulations, repatriation of overseas cash, and fiscal stimulus package but the passage of his policies are far from certain. Furthermore, immigration restrictions, trade wars with China and Mexico, Brexit, elections in Germany and France, withdrawing from trade deals and imposing tariffs on China are all possible negative effects on economic growth and creates uncertainties.

If congress does not pass his corporate tax cuts and imposed tariffs and trade barriers, we expect that the market rally will correct itself. Having dry powder will allow us to seize new investment opportunities and to preserve capital due to the higher than usual risks and uncertainties as these set of binary outcomes will have dramatically different results. The portfolio advisor continues diligently monitoring economic conditions in Canada, the United States and globally with the view of deploying its vast cash reserve in sectors that offer the most attractive opportunities, including special situations which have higher potential returns, less credit risk than bonds as standing higher in capital structure and short duration.

- (1) This information is provided as at December 31, 2016
- (2) Management expense ratio is based on total expenses (excluding commission and other portfolio transaction costs) for the stated period and expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period.
- (3) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period.
- (4) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio adviser manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher a fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the fund in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and performance of a fund.
